___ has performed an independent review of the proposed care to determine if the adverse determination was appropriate. In performing this review, all relevant medical records and documentation utilized to make the adverse determination, along with any documentation and written information submitted, was reviewed.

The independent review was performed by a matched peer with the treating doctor. This case was reviewed by a licensed Medical Doctor with a specialty and board certification in Neurological Surgery. The ___ health care professional has signed a certification statement stating that no known conflicts of interest exist between the reviewer and any of the treating doctors or providers or any of the doctors or providers who reviewed the case for a determination prior to the referral to ___ for independent review. In addition, the reviewer has certified that the review was performed without bias for or against any party to the dispute.

CLINICAL HISTORY

This patient has complaints of severe axial neck pain with occasional episodes of numbness in the arms and has failed to respond positively to transforaminal cervical injections. She has an MRI which is interpreted as consistent with "significant right paracentral disc herniation with cord compression at C6/7 and significant broad-based disc herniation with cord compression at C5/6."

REQUESTED SERVICE

A cervical discogram is requested for this patient.

DECISION

The reviewer agrees with the prior adverse determination.

BASIS FOR THE DECISION

At the present time, the decision as to the medical necessity of the proposed cervical discogram is that it is unnecessary. The rationale is as follows: Studies and treatment guidelines and care standards would indicate that in a patient with a persistent cervical spine disorder and failure to respond to conservative management, with evidence of significant disc herniation and cord compression on neuroradiographic studies consisting of MRI, it is unnecessary to proceed with a cervical discogram prior to performing cervical decompressive surgery.

___ has performed an independent review solely to determine the medical necessity of the health services that are the subject of the review. ___ has made no determinations regarding benefits available under the injured employee's policy.

As an officer of ___, I certify that there is no known conflict between the reviewer, ___ and/or any officer/employee of the IRO with any person or entity that is a party to the dispute.

___ is forwarding by mail and, in the case of time sensitive matters by facsimile, a copy of this finding to the treating doctor, payor and/or URA, patient and the TWCC.
